The following groups also provided thoughtful feedback and suggestions: Action for Bright Children Society, Calgary. Centre for Gifted Education, University of. (AABC). Calgary. Children who are creatively gifted often look for the unusual and may take a different path to solving problems and completing assignments or projects at school. They may be more interested in questions and processes than in answers and solutions. Test taking can be a challenge to children who are creative because they tend to see many possibilities. Gifted education (also known as gifted and talented education (GATE), talented and gifted programs (TAG), or G/T education) is a broad group of special practices, procedures, and theories used in the education of children who have been identified as gifted or talented. The main approaches to gifted education are enrichment and acceleration. An enrichment program teaches additional, related material, but keeps the student progressing through the curriculum at the same rate as other students. For
