

Gifts to the Forest History Society Library

July 1, 2005 to June 30, 2007

Aird, Paul: 1] Aird, Paul L. Loon Laughter: Ecological Fables & Nature Tales. (Markham, Ont.: Fitzhenry & Whiteside, 1999.) 2] Aird, Paul L. Éloge du pin. Chalk River, Ont.: Institut forestier national de Petawawa, 1986.

Alexe, Alexe: Alexe, Alexe. Worldwide Forest Mensuration History: A Selected Bibliography. (Bucharest, Romania: The Author, 2006.) 8 vols.

Andres, David L.: 1] "The CL-215 for North Carolina." 2] "The Time is Now!: CL-215 for North Carolina." Spiral bound promotional materials for the purchase of the CL-215 aircraft for firefighting purposes.

Baier, Lowell E.: Baier, Lowell E. "The Cradle of Conservation: Theodore Roosevelt's Elkhorn Ranch, An Icon of America's National Identity." Theodore Roosevelt Association Journal 27 (Winter 2007):12–24.

Bailey, Robert: Bailey, Robert F. Maryland's Forests and Parks: A Century of Progress. (Charleston, SC: Arcadia Publishing, 2006.)

Baker, Robert D.: Baker, Robert D. "Timbered Again: The Story of the National Forests in Texas." Unpublished ms. 1993. 1391 pp.

Bare, Bruce: Schmitz, Henry. The Long Road Travelled: An Account of Forestry at the University of Washington. Edited by Gordon D. Marckworth. (Seattle: Arboretum Foundation, University of Washington, 1973.) xiv + 273 pp.

Bene, Dottie: Biographical information on her husband, Jim Bene, who worked for both the U.S. Forest Service and the National Park Service.

Blank, Gary B.: 1 folder of correspondence to and from Miss Ida L. Padelford of Asheville, NC, dating from 1955 to 1963 and dealing with her research on the history of the Biltmore Estate and the Biltmore Forest School.

Blankenburg, Julie: Photocopy of "An Oral History Interview with Dr. Eloise Gerry." Madison, Wisc.: USDA Forest Service, Forest Products Laboratory, 1961. 19 p.

Claver, Michael: A Forest Conscienceness: Proceedings of 6th National Conference of the Australian Forest History Society, Inc. (Rotterdam: Millpress, 2005.) x, 85 p. Book contains abstracts of papers while accompanying CD contains full papers.

Connery, M. B. "Mac": Photocopy of the chapter on "Railroad Logging" from Logging: The Principles and General Methods of Operation in the United States, by Ralph Clement Bryant. (New York: John Wiley & Sons, Inc., 1923.) 2nd ed.

Culbert, James H.: CD with files of data, 9 cartons of records regarding USFS timber sales.

Dargavel, John: Dargavel, John. "From Exploitation to Science: Lane Poole's Forest Surveys of Papua and New Guinea, 1922–1924." Historical Records of Australian Science 17 (2006): 71–90.

Dierks, Don, Jr.: 1] Dierks, F. McD. (Don), Jr. The Legacy of Peter Henry Dierks, 1824–1972. (Tacoma, Wash.: The Author, 1972.) 133 p.: ill. 2] Information regarding Heritage Forester Award presented to Dierks family in 2005. 3] "The 'Three Dons' of Briar"—regarding the Briar Gypsum operations of the Mineral Resources Division of Dierks Forests. 4] Richter, Wendy. "The Birth of a Company Town: Mountain Pine, Arkansas." The Record 42 (2001):1–11, 27. 5] Three newspaper and magazine articles about the history of the Dierks Lumber Company.

Fettters, Thomas: 1] Information on the logging railway of the E. P. Burton Company in Dorchester County, South Carolina, ca. 1923. 2] Fettters, Thomas. "A Newly Discovered Logging Line near Charleston, SC." Unpublished ms.

Funderburke, Jr., Kenney P.: 1] Materials related to the Southern Brazil Lumber and Colonization Company, Inc., 1910–1915, including: 17 B&W 8" x 10" photographic prints; information on Ernest Bishop; cigarette package labels depicting the lumber company buildings; correspondence to Funderburke from associates at the company in 1991; article "Cyclo de Madera," in Portuguese; info on Westvaco in Brazil. 2] Photocopies of images depicting logging by the Southern Brazil Lumber and Colonization Company and a 4-year conflict with squatters and other rebels.

Greene, Mark: 18 cartons of the papers of Gordon D. Fox, who was a forester with the United States Forest Service. He was born in 1909 and died in 1990. His collection consists of forest surveys, forestry plans and reports, mainly from the 1960s and 1970s. There are topics ranging from beetle epidemics to plywood to deforestation. Although some of these documents concern the United States, many relate to forestry in Latin America. There are also some folders of correspondence and conference notes. The material is well organized and in good condition.

Hayes, Frederick W.: 1] Ingram, Orrin Henry. Letters of a Pioneer: Early Lumbering Days. (Eau Claire, Wis.: The Author, 1916.) 2] Photocopy of "Incidents in the Life of O.H. Ingram." 3] Photocopy of "Autobiography, Orrin Henry Ingram: May, 1930–December, 1912."

Healy, Robert G.: 1 CD, 27 books, and 5 VHS videos on topics such as the editorial cartoons of J. N. "Ding" Darling, development of U.S. forest policy, land-use change in the U.S., tropical forests, economic value of environmental services, etc.

Hoff, Michael D.: Brochure about Whitewater Valley Land Trust; 4 newsletters; facsimile of "A Notice to the Wayfarer."

Janik, Pat: 9 cartons of papers of her husband, Phil Janik, including some books. Janik, an employee of the U.S. Forest Service, was the Alaska Regional Forest from 1994–1998. He was selected as the Deputy Chief for state and private forestry in 1998 and served as Chief Operation Officer for the Forest Service in 2001.

Joslin, Les: 1] 2 copies of Joslin, Les. Toiyabe Patrol: Five U.S. Forest Service Summers. (Bend, Ore.: Wilderness Associates, 1993.) 87 pp. Photographs, illustrations. Paper $7.95. Personal memoir of a fire control aide on Nevada's Toiyabe National Forest during the 1960s. 2] 2 copies of Joslin, Les. The Wilderness Concept and the Three Sisters Wilderness. (Bend, Ore.: Wilderness Associates, 2000.) Rev. ed.

Karakash, John: Ogden, George W. The Guard of Timberline. (New York: Dodd, Mead & Co., 1934.)

Kelly, Verner E.: 1 file of information on the Great Dismal

Swamp gathered by Mr. Kelly in the course of preparing an article on the topic. Includes magazine articles, maps, correspondence from Union Camp employees, newspaper clippings, etc.

LaLande, Jeffrey: Byrne, James J., Roger J. Nelson, and Paul H. Googins. Cost of Hauling Logs by Motor Truck and Trailer. (Portland, Ore.: Pacific Northwest Forest and Ranger Experiment Station, U.S. Forest Service, 1956.)

Lentz, Robert: Lentz, Robert. Trees of Inspiration. (Ashland, Ohio: BookMasters, Inc., 2002.)

Lund, H. Gyde: 1 CD containing: listing of jobs held by Lund with the U.S. Forest Service from 1979 to 1997; memos and reports by Lund; directives that resulted from work of Lund; significant publications; and lesser publications.

Lunsford, Robert E., Sr.: Electronic scan of photograph of Elwood P. Bushnell as a student at the Yale School of Forestry in 1911. Surrounded by four other unidentified students.

Mackovjak, James: VHS video "Hoonah's Legacy" about logging done near Hoonah by Huna Totem and Sealaska corporations.

Marquis, Annette: 1] Pertinent Facts on Salvage of New England Timber. (Madison, Wisc.: Northeastern Timber Salvage Administration, 1938.) 2] Packet of information from W. Ross Wilson, County Agricultural Agent in Woodsville, NH, to Timber Salvage Town Chairman, dated November 26, 1938.

Mayer, Bruce: 1] Murphy, Peter J., Robert E. Stevenson, Dennis Quintilio, and Steven Ferdinand. The Alberta Forest Service, 1930–2005: Protection and Management of Alberta's Forests. (Edmonton: Alberta Sustainable Resource Development. Government of Alberta, 2006.) 2] CD: "Historical Forestry Photograph Collection," version 2.1.

McDonald, Garreth M.: McDonald, Garreth M., comp. A Century of North Carolina Industrial Railroads 1869–1969. Pleasant Garden, NC: The Author, 2007. 3rd ed.

McWilliams, Steve: 1) Georgia Forestry Today, Vol. 2, Issue 2

Canada's Forests

by Ken Drushka

Looking back over 10,000 years, from the end of the last glacial period to the beginning of the twenty-first century, Ken Drushka explores how the human use of our forests has changed and combines, for the first time, an overall description of the ten forest regions of Canada with an overview of their historical uses and their current condition.

Canada's Forests analyses the changes in human attitudes towards the forests, detailing the rise of the late nineteenth-century conservation movement and its subsequent decline after World War I, the interplay between industry and government in the development of policy, the adoption of sustained yield policies after World War II, and the recent embracing of concepts of sustainable forest management in response to environmental concerns. Drushka argues that, despite centuries of use, Canadian forests retain their vitality and integrity.

Ken Drushka has published numerous books on forestry, including Stumped, Three Men and a Forester, Working in the Woods, Touch Wood, In the Bight, and HR: A Biography of H.R. MacMillan and has written weekly newspaper columns on forestry for the Vancouver Sun and Business in Vancouver, as well as numerous magazine articles.

"Drushka has done an admirable job of synthesizing the material in a way that will be of value to a general readership. I am impressed with the way [his] account addresses main themes in Canadian history; it should serve well as an introduction to Canadian forest history."

— Richard Rajala
Department of History,
University of Victoria

Available from:

McGill-Queen's University Press
3430 McTavish Street
Montreal, Quebec H3A 1X9
Canada
Fax: (514) 398-4333
<http://www.mqup>

or

The Forest History Society
919/682-9319
Order online: www.ForestHistory.org
ISBN Paper 0773526617
ISBN Cloth 0773526609

(March/April 2006); 2] Georgia Forestry Today Vol. 2, Issue 3 (May/June 2006); 3] Izlar, Bob. The Centennial History of Forestry in Georgia: A Pictorial Journey. (Forsyth, Ga.: Georgia Forestry Association, 2006.)

Miller, Char: 1] Folder of material related to environmental ethics and government employees, including newsletters, etc. from Forest Service Employees for Environmental Ethics; 2] Approx 20 issues of newsletter, "The Green Elephant," published by Republicans for Environmental Protection.

Miller, Char, in honor of Hal Rothman: Klett, Mark, Rebecca Solnit, and Byron Wolfe. Yosemite in Time: Ice Ages, Tree Clocks, Ghost Rivers. (San Antonio, Tex.: Trinity University Press, 2005.) Limited ed.

Mullen, Theresa A.: 2 black and white photographs (image size 3" x 3") of Chicago Lumber Company, October 1956.

Nakamura, Gary and Nicoles, John: Berry, Swift. "Lumbering in the Sugar and Yellow Pine Region of California." (Washington: U.S.G.P.O., 1917.) [Reprint 2006 includes biography of author].

Nodine, Steve: 18 cartons records from the Forest Resources Systems (FORS) Institute (1983–2003). FORS was founded as a clearinghouse of information on computer applications in forest resources management. For two decades, it served in this role, helping thousands of forest managers, educators, consultants, and owners discover and utilize numerous computer applications.

Porterfield, Dick: Izlar, Bob. The Centennial History of Forestry in Georgia: A Pictorial Journey. (Forsyth, Ga.: Georgia Forestry Association, 2006.)

Preece, Kathleen: Two copies of Minnesota Better Forests, published by Preece (for and about Minnesota's 139,000 private forest landowners).

Ringen, Laurence: Photos and memorabilia from forester Laurence R. Young, mostly relating to his years at the Biltmore Forest School, ca. 1911–1914.

Robin, Libby: Robin, Libby. How a Continent Created a Nation. (Sydney: University of New South Wales Press, 2007.) viii + 259 pp.

Roche, Michael: Roche, Michael. "The Missing Report: Sir David Hutchins and New Zealand Forestry Park II." Turnbull Library Records 38 (2005):35–41.

Sandor, John A.: Leete, F.A. Lumbering and Wood-Working Industries in the United States and Canada Together with Notes on British Practice and Suggestions for India Based on a Tour in North American in 1918. (Simla: Government of India, 1919.) Vol. I: Logging, Vol. II: Sawmills, Vol. III: Manufacture, Research and Water Hyacinth.

Sisco, Paul: 1] Powell, G. Harold. "The European and Japanese Chestnuts in the Eastern United States." Delaware College Agricultural Experiment Station Bulletin No. 42, December, 1898, 35 p. 2] Milgroom, Michael G. et al. "Intercontinental population structure of the chestnut blight fungus, Cryphonectria parasitica." Micologia 88, 2 (1996): 170–190.

Stine, Jeffrey: 6 booklets: 1] Edge, Rosalie. "Conservation—How It Works: Notes, News and Comments." New York: Emergency Conservation Committee, 1940; 2] Edge, Rosalie. "Conservation for Victory." New York: Emergency Conservation Committee, 1943; 3] White, I.C. "Address of Dr. I.C. White, State Geologist of West Virginia, at the Conference on the Conservation of Natural Resources, at the White House the afternoon of May 13, 1908"; 4] "Conservation of Natural Resources." New York: Meeting of Engineers, 1909; 5] "United Nations Scientific Conference on the Conservation and Utilization of Resources: Provisional Programme." Lake Success, NY: 1948; 6] "Conservation: Biology Colloquium." Corvallis: Oregon State Chapter of Phi Kappa Phi, 1952. 7] Newspaper interview with Steven Rogel, CEO of Weyerhaeuser. 8] Heynen, Nik, Harold A. Perkins, and Parama Roy. "The Political Ecology of Uneven Urban Green Space." Urban Affairs Review 42 (September 2006): 3–25. 9] Randall, David K. "Perhaps Only God Can Make a Tree, but Only People Could Put a Dollar Value on It." New York Times, New York Region, Wednesday April 18, 2007. p. A24. About a computer program called Stratum, that calculates the dollar value of an urban tree based on its contributions to the environment and landscape.

Taber, Richard: Taber, Richard and Neil Payne. Wildlife, Conservation, and Human Welfare: A United States and Canadian Perspective. (Malabar, Fla.: Krieger Pub. Co., 2003.)

Tedder, Russell: Darling, O. H. "Doogie." A History of the Mills, Logging Camps, and Early Forestry Operations of the Crossett Lumber Company. (Sherwood, Ark.: The Author, 2006.)

Whitmore, Les: 1 box of records: International Society of Tropical Foresters, 1984–1993.

Whitney, Richard: Whitney, Richard. "Two-wheel Lumber Buggy," draft of article submitted to Tall Timber Short Lines.

Wickman, Boyd E.: Wickman, Boyd E. Harry E. Burke and John M. Miller, Pioneers in Western Forest Entomology. (Portland, Ore.: USDA Forest Service. Pacific Northwest Research Station, 2005.)

Young, Terence: 1] Young, Terence. "False, Cheap and Degraded: When History, Economy and Environment Collided at Cades Cove, Great Smoky Mountains National Park." Journal of Historical Geography, 32 (2006):169–189. 2] Young, Terence. "German Influences on San Francisco's Nineteenth-Century Green Space." Die Gartenkunst, 18 (Heft 1, 2006): 69–80. □

Forest History Today seeks manuscripts that are 3,000 to 5,000 words long with six to eight historic photos/illustrations. Original photos are accepted or high-quality scans (minimum 300 dpi at 5" x 7"). Manuscripts should be written for a general audience, be historically accurate and be interpretive in nature. Authors should use Chicago Manual of Style-Humanities for references, generally endnotes, although extensive citations are not required. There are no specific deadlines. Authors may contact Jamie Lewis, jglewis@duke.edu; 919/682-9319 to discuss potential topics.

Forest History Society, Durham, NC. 3,816 likes · 254 talking about this · 45 were here. The Forest History Society is a nonprofit library and archive... Facebook is showing information to help you better understand the purpose of a Page. See actions taken by the people who manage and post content. Page created on 2 November 2010. People. 1948. Photo from the Forest History Society archives. "Billbot" - a maneuver that supposedly prevented breakage. But hands and memories were small in those days and one often heard the sickening splinter of wood and the dire excommunication: "Your Old Man is gonna pay for this!" FOREST HISTORY TODAY 19 Ballplayers often went to the factories to watch their bats being made, at least the old timers did, picking them out of the production lines, or selecting the wood they were to be made from. The player most meticulous about his bats was Ted Williams, the perfectionist. He used to tell the turner just how he wanted his bat shaped. But the human history of Amazonia in the past 11,000 years betrays that view as myth. Evidence gathered in recent years from anthropology and archaeology indicates that the region has supported a series of indigenous cultures for eleven thousand years; an extensive network of complex societies - some with populations perhaps as large as 100,000 - thrived there for more than 1,000 years before the arrival of Europeans. 20. The indigenous Amazonian Indians are necessary to the well-being of the forest. 21. It would be possible for certain parts of Amazonia to support a higher population. 23. The author believes recent discoveries of the remains of complex societies in Amazonia A. are evidence of early indigenous communities. B. are the remains of settlements by invaders.