

PUBLICATION BUREAU PUNJABI UNIVERSITY, PATIALA

ABOUT THE UNIVERSITY

Punjabi University, Patiala, one of the leading premier institutions in the northern region of India, came into existence on 30th April, 1962 under Punjab Act No. 35 of 1961. This is the only University in the country to be named after a language. It was established primarily for the development and enrichment of Punjabi language and culture. However, with the passage of time, the University started contributing significantly in other disciplines of education also. It was for its splendid and extraordinary all round contribution that the University won the Five Star status from NAAC, an autonomous body of the UGC.

BUREAU AT A GLANCE

Publication Bureau, an important wing of the University, was established in 1966 to further the cause of Punjabi language, literature and culture. Entrusted with the task of publishing books and research journals commissioned by the University, the Bureau takes the pride to mention that more than three thousand titles covering a number of subjects in English, Punjabi and other language are in its kitty. It has been contributing constantly towards the promotion of books and developing reading habit among the masses. A wide variety of quality books ranging from scriptures to the works of fiction books on medical and engineering sciences are made available to the readers of all age groups at a reasonable price.

Over the years, the Bureau's publications have earned a distinctive name for their content and excellent quality of production. The Bureau won the National Award twice for its excellence in Printing and Designing during the years 1965 and 1971. Recently, in 2011-12, it got Award for Excellence in Publishing from the Federation of Indian Publishers for its publication title, "Gurushabad Ratnakar Mahan Kosh" (Punjabi) in the reference book category of regional language. The number of awards won by the Bureau from time to time establish its claim.

Our Vision

To make available quality books for higher education at a low cost, and to inculcate a habit of reading and buying books among more and more people.

Kitab Ghar

The idea for the establishment of an air-conditioned 'Kitab Ghar', an outlet for the display and sale of University publications at the University Campus, was mooted out by the worthy Vice-Chancellor, Dr. Jaspal Singh himself which shows his deep love for the books and concern about the readers. It remains open on all days of the week except Sunday from 8:30 a.m to 8:00 p.m.

Books Club & Its Membership

The members of the Book Club are entitled to get a 50% discount on the purchase of every book. Anybody can get the membership of the club for a year by paying a nominal fee of Rs. 25/- only.

Organizing Book Fairs

Organizing/Participating in book fairs/exhibitions at the local, regional and national levels is another salient feature of the Bureau. A mobile van is meant for this purpose only. It is an endeavour to make the books available to the people at their door steps.

PUNJAB HISTORY CONFERENCE PROCEEDINGS

These Volumes include papers read at the conference held every year at the Punjabi University Campus. Its first session was held in 1965. The purpose of these conferences is to unravel hitherto untouched areas of research of this region, i.e., Punjab. For this reason, the proceedings have gained eminence throughout India.

A large number of distinguished scholars participate in the conference; and the research papers are read on various aspects of the Punjab History. The proceedings of the conference are published afterwards. It has attracted many a new scholars from all over the country for its study and it is hoped that their researches will bring to light new information and the socio-economic and religio-political life of the people of the country during the ancient, medieval and modern periods of our regional history.
