Administrative experience. Anne-Wil Harzing - Sat 6 Feb 2016 16:10 (updated Sat 22 Jun 2019 10:46). My experience started during my MA studies at Maastricht University, where I was a student member of the governing body of the department of Business Administration. In my subsequent positions at the Universities of Heerlen, Tilburg and Maastricht, my administrative duties were mostly related to teaching development. Administrative experience is quite a bit different from general "clerical" duties. Administrative often involves you doing significant work to support often mid to senior level management. Before attempting to do an administrative assistant, I would look at doing something like a clerk typist, or an office assistant position. This will help you to build up more skills required to be successful in the administrative experience.
