

LOOK AFTER YOUR PLANET

by Lauren Child

Charlie and Lola, a brother and sister team discover being sustainable in this lovely story. Charlie helps Lola to look after the planet better after wasting lots and lots.

DID YOU KNOW?

Choosing books with bigger meanings, like saving the planet are a great way to get your child thinking. With characters that are easy to relate to and think like they do, books like this become more than just a story and become part of their learning journey.

Look at the front cover and point out Charlie and Lola. You might explain how they are brother and sister and comment on what they are doing.

Read the title: Look after your planet. Ask your child what they think this book might be about.

Over exaggerate how much Lola is wasting when she is throwing out everything.

As Charlie and Lola find things to recycle, point out things that you might already recycle or could recycle.

Talk about why it's important to 'Look after your planet?' Your child will be able to show you how much they understand by what they say.

There are lots of fun things you can make with boxes, bottles, toilet rolls before they go into the bin. So add these to your craft collection.

Maybe have a look at the things you have thrown in the bin today, could your child help do some more recycling?

Summary: "Look After Your Planet" When Lola sees the room of Marv's brother Marty, who never throws anything away, she resolves to get rid of all of her old stuff. Charlie encourages the project, but tells her that she should recycle it instead. Later, they receive a comic called Look After Your Planet that offers a prize of a tree to plant if you're able to collect enough stuff to recycle. Charlie and Lola do their best, but find that they need some help. "Too Many Big Words" Lola is becoming frustrated with the reading, writing and counting she is learning at school. Look After Your Planet is the twenty-fifth episode of Season 2 of Ngyes and Woomy and is the overall fifty-first episode. Woomy involves her class in a recycling mission. This marks the only time we hear Ben speak. His lines are "GET OUTTA MY ROOM NOW!" and "WHOSE BEEN IN MY ROOM?". Categories: Episodes. Season 2 Episodes. All Episodes.
